Solomon said—"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Bishop Kelly said—"Our loyalty to our country is not based on our grateful resignation of the freedom that we enjoy here; nor on the equality which is guaranteed by law."

WHAT OF ARMISTICE DAY?

Saturday was the anniversary of the close of the great war. Four years ago the Germans signed the armistice which was the last act of the terrible struggle for world supremacy. When the news reached us we celebrated in one great outpouring of spirit and rejoicing. That was the first great armistice day.

But what of Armistice Day now?

While public business was suspended Saturday, private enterprise went on as usual. In North Platte, there was no celebration of the day. Several towns in the county and surrounding territory put on observances of different kinds but North Platte went on her way about as usual.

Shall we have an Armistice Day?

The revolutionary war brought us the Fourth of July which is a day of rejoicing; the civil war brought us Memorial day, which is a day of mourning; the World war brought us Armistice day—shall this be a day of gladness or a day of sorrow?

Why shall celebrate Armistice Day?

The first Armistice day was celebrated in this country without the service men. It was the greatest Armistice day celebration that will ever be held. It was done by the people as a whole. Now we sit back and expect the service men to do it all. No wonder the boys talk of bonuses as a substitute for recognition when we people are so indifferent.

Why not celebrate Armistice day here in North Platte every year.

Why not have the ex-service men as guests of the city and make it a holiday worth while? Why not show up the radicals and the reds by putting on one day of patriotic effort which would be the wonder and delight of the children? We could pay our reverence to the soldier dead as well as our respect for the soldier living. What red-blooded American business man in North Platte was satisfied with last Saturday? The stores were open but for some reason business was not good. There was a general feeling that we had slipped back in some way and but it was hard to put one's finger on the exact place. There may be such a thing as desecration of Armistice day and if there is, we did it Saturday.

What is Armistice day?

The official count did not change the results of the election although something over forty million ballots were added to the figures announced last week. The only place at all in doubt from the first figures was the election of Theo. Axtell to the Legislature and the official count did not materially change his deal which was small in any case and held the matter in doubt until the official count was made.

According to the monthly summary for October listed by Weatherman Shilling the rainfall was but .14 of an in. The normal October rainfall is 1.15 inches, so those who do not like rain and wet weather certainly should have enjoyed the past month. The temperature was a little above normal with the highest 89 and the lowest 16.

A Lincoln paper contained the following item relative to some recent honors conferred on Miss Eva Hoagland of this city who is a student at the University of Nebraska. Miss Hoagland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Hoagland.

Four new student members and one faculty advisor were elected to complete the membership of the Senior Honorary Society of the Teachers' College at a luncheon given Friday at the Lincolnshire. The society was organized last spring, and is composed of ten senior girls and three faculty advisors. Professional activities and scholarship are considered in election. Faculty recommendation is required for students. The society takes charge of Teachers' College activities. Dr. Lira B. Earhart was chosen as the third advisor. The new student members are:

Louise Abbott, Dorothy Hershock, Vivian Hanson and Eva Hoagland.

UNCLE JOHN WRITES
A CALIFORNIA LETTER

IS FAVORITE NEPHEW IS TOLD OF INTERESTING LOCAL AFFAIRS

Dear Frankie:

Yesterday we had our first snow. I started early like the night before and kept it on all day Sunday. The wind was just strong enough to keep the snow moving and sent it in little eddies and whirls but it was not very cold and so it was not bad out of doors. I recollect how you used to enjoy the first good snowfall. You used to go on and roll big snowballs and several times you made a snow fort which would melt away the next day. What fun you had! Your boys will never know that sport, will they? you wrote that you never had snow there in California and I reckon some people would like that but give me winter in winter and summer in summer and not summer in winter. Tonight every thing is white and beautiful out of doors. When the snow started Saturday, Carl Hollman and his gang—you remember Carl started as a young lawyer before you left here and he seems to be doing right well—Carl and his gang started on a wild goose chase up the river for they said, "The wild geese will be coming in today." I have not heard what luck they had but they deserved to get some geese on account of the weather. The other day your aunt and I went out to Glenburnie Fruit Farm to get some apples. They raised over ten thousand bushels of as fine apples as you ever saw out there this year. Aunt Mary was a little nervous and after we had started she said to me, "John if you don't honk your horn more we will never get there," and I said, Mary, is isn't the feller who honks his horn the loudest, its the feller that steers the best that gets there." She thought about that a long time and when she got home she told your cousin Jane about it and she drew my picture in the car which I think is right good and am sending it to you.

Speaking about the car reminds me of Everett Carr another young lawyer like Carl Hollman but he came here since you left. Saturday he said he felt as though he just had to drive over to Beaver City or some place near there and eat Sunday dinner, with his folks so he started in the snow, and we have not heard of him since. Some people here said it wasn't his folks he went to see but it must have been because he seemed so anxious to go. I hope he made it and has a good visit with them. The Tribune man says he wants me to save postage by having this letter sent in the paper and I think it would be a good plan. You can get it just as soon and I won't have to write all the other news. Aunt Mary sends her love to all.

From Your Uncle John.
